Two characteristic features of Jesus' preaching are closely related. (1) He calls God his father. Because Jesus took on our human condition, we too are drawn into this divine relationship, so that we can also say Our Father, or more accurately, "abba," meaning daddy." (2) Jesus teaches us to become like little children in order to enter the reign of God, the kingdom.

Both of these teachings were unique to Jesus. No one in the Hebrew/ Jewish tradition dared to call God by such a familial term as "father," much less "daddy." It was only with fear and trembling that they approached God.

Speaking of children in glowing terms was also quite unusual in ancient times. The thinking then was that children should be seen and not heard. Thus, Jesus' disciples tried to shoo the children away, before Jesus said, "Let them come to me." For Jesus, children model for us humility and dependence on God. They are the vulnerable ones, much like the poor and handicapped. And most especially, they are the ones who are not jaded, who take delight in everything. In one passage, (Mt 11:16-17) Jesus even describes children playing pretend weddings and funerals.

FR. MARK'S MUSINGS

Of course, at Christmas time we reflect on Jesus, the son of God who made himself so vulnerable as to be born into poverty. And we think of our own children and grandchildren who are so excited about Christmas.

Three simple experiences I had during this Advent/ Christmas season reminded me of my own "inner child." First, our staff had a meeting/ lunch at Debbie Rak's house, where I got right down on the floor and had a blast playing with her little dog. As a child I was afraid of dogs, so at moments like these, I get to experience something I missed out on as a kid.

Secondly, we have on the rectory kitchen window sill a little toy elf no taller than my finger. I had seen him since I came here in July, but hadn't thought much of him until one sunny December afternoon when I saw him come to life. He swayed to and fro, his head to one side and body to the other, and it finally dawned on me that he is solar powered. (In the summer and fall, the sun is too high in the sky for its rays to shine directly through our window.) This simple little toy probably gave me greater joy than some of the fancy Christmas toys I got when I was a child.

The third experience was when I saw our Religious Ed director Ann De Rey just before Christmas, wearing a necklace of Christmas light bulbs—the big old-fashioned ones I remember as a small child, that have come back into fashion. I said, "I love your Christmas light necklace," so she then flipped a switch behind her neck two or three times, causing the lights to flash on and off in unison, then to turn on and off in wavelike sequence, all the little tricks that Christmas lights do these days.

"Let the children come to me." "You must become like little children to enter the kingdom of God." Merry Christmas, and Happy New Year.

CONNECTING POINT

How does my family support each other in times of stress?

Most families manage well in times of anxiety and stress. Daily expressions of love can overcome most anything. The first place people go when under some stress is to prayer. I mean not only structured prayer (the rosary, for example), but also conversational prayer.

One of my favorite saints is St. Anthony, (the patron saint of lost things!) I just talk with him, reminding him that I count on him to intercede for me to God. Prayer can be a valuable part of family life. In all the stressful situations, we teach by word and example the value of prayer in our daily lives. Some prayer at night, at meals, or when leaving on vacation, are ways of including prayer in family life.

Family is the school of faith and the place we find God in the ordinary everyday world.

PRAYER BLANKET MINISTRY

Prayer blankets & shawls are available at no cost in the St. Isidore church office

(Sr. Charleen Hug, S.N.D.): "I am the representative between Jesus and the persons with whom I come into contact. I am the only 'Jesus' some people will ever see. In Jesus' name I offer compassion, care, kindness and love. I am privileged to draw others to Jesus."

All of us are a sign of God's love to those who are suffering. We give them reason to believe and to trust. Please continue to remember those who are struggling. Thank you to all who help us spread the love of Jesus by giving a prayer blanket or shawl to a person who needs comfort.

May peace and joy be yours in the New Year!

BABY PANTRY

Our ministry meets with every family we assist. We give advice and referrals, and also supplement the government WIC program.

Our mission is to reach out to very low-income single moms and families with infants and toddlers under the age of 2. It is through you, the St. Isidore parishioners, in your name, and with your donations, that our ministry is able to do this evangelization work. We are very grateful for all your donations.

Happy New Year! May God bless you with a happy, healthy 2019.

PARISH HEALTH MINISTRY

In partnership with Ascension of Southeast Michigan

Make 2019 Your Healthiest Year Yet!

Get Active. Start small- try taking the stairs instead of the elevator or parking further from your destination. Consider mall walking if the weather is too cold or icy. Adults should get at least 2.5 hours per week of moderate-intensity physical activity.

Eat healthfully and enjoy it! A healthy eating plan that helps you manage your weight includes a variety of foods you may not have considered. If healthy eating makes you think about the foods you can't have, try refocusing on all the new foods you can eat.

Consider taking a new class. Yoga? Pilates? Or how about Healthy Habits? It's a 4 week workshop designed to improve your physical, emotional and spiritual well-being. It combines gentle stretching exercise with health information on nutrition, meal planning and managing stress to form healthy habits for life. Visit healthcare.ascension.org/events to register.

Blessings on the New Year!

Generosity at St. Isidore exists in so many different ways, from faithful volunteering to generous giving. We are blessed as a community because of YOU and your involvement in our community.

This page shows the operating income and expenses for St. Isidore over the last two fiscal years. I feel it is important to share this with you to better articulate the cost of running an effective parish.

Please take note of the CSA graph that we've included on this page. We are overwhelmed at the response that the people of St. Isidore had with our CSA 2.0 campaign from last year. Because of this response, we did not have to use operating funds to pay a shortfall, and we reduced our assessment exposure considerably. Thank you for your generous response to CSA 2.0.

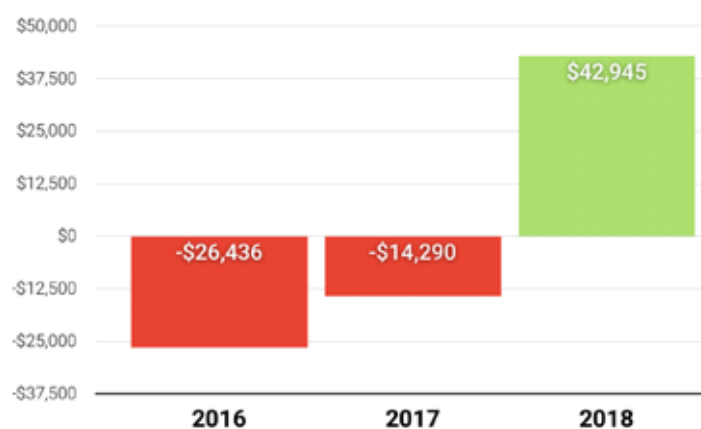

My dream for this community is to expand the many great things that we are already participating in. I would love to see our church expand the worship and educational opportunities we offer to help more people connect with God and to build our community. The amazing work of SVDP, our food and baby pantries, along with the many evangelization efforts we offer are all great expressions of reaching out and our love of neighbor; Imagine what we could do with these efforts if more funding were allocated to these efforts.

One of the many innovative ideas we have introduced this year was a next-gen platform for online giving. This year we are on pace to receive more than $150,000 through this form of giving. We feel that this is the future of church giving. It makes giving so much easier and convenient for you and helps fund the church's mission in a more direct way. Please consider moving to this new platform. It's easy to get started: simply text "stisidore" to 77977 or visit our website: stisidore.church/give.

Thank you again for your generous support of the work of the Catholic Community at St. Isidore. I pray that the Lord continues to bless all that we do.
