THE 5TH SUNDAY OF LENT

CONNECTING POINT

Matt Kush - Director of Engagement matt@stisidore.church

We all remember the old phrase, "Sticks and stones may break my bones, but words will never hurt me." However, the truth is that words can hurt... and sometimes do even worse.

In this Sunday's Gospel, Jesus is confronted with a crowd ready to stone a woman caught in sin. He challenges them with these words: "Let the one among you who is without sin be the first to throw a stone." Slowly, they drop their stones and walk away. But I wonder: How often do we throw stones with our words?

We throw stones when we gossip and when we tear someone down out of anger, jealousy, or frustration. We also throw stones when we label people unfairly, when we make assumptions, and when we refuse to give someone the benefit of the doubt. Furthermore, we throw stones when we let division, politics, or pride push us into judging others harshly—sometimes without even knowing the full story.

In today's world, those stones are everywhere. Social media and public conversations are full of them. So often, we speak without mercy, patience, or kindness. And the damage goes far beyond broken bones; it breaks trust, divides families, creates enemies out of neighbors, and silences those already

Lenten Check-In

Amy Righi - Directory of Liturgy & Music

How is the journey going for you? Are you feeling stronger and more capable, more faithful than when we began this season of Prayer, Fasting and Almsgiving? Let's take a breath and take stock.

How is your prayer time going? If you feel disappointed with yourself for not doing, or for falling short in your plans, you are most certainly not the only one, and there is still time to add some prayer time to your busy schedule. Write or set a reminder to yourself and take 5 or 10 minutes to read scripture, pray a few Hail Marys with an Our Father or just sit in silence with the Lord. If the weather is cooperating, take a quiet walk and look for signs of Spring, giving thanks for the wonders of God's creation. Adding a few minutes of prayer to our frenetic days can actually empower us to navigate the craziness of our lives more smoothly.

How is your fasting (and abstinence) going? Have you been following the goals you have set for yourself? Our Lenten fasting unites us in solidarity with Christ as he fasted for 40 days in the desert, resisting temptation and focusing on His relationship with God. Have you abstained from eating meat on Fridays? There are only two Friday opportunities remaining including Good Friday.

Good Friday fast and abstinence (as on Ash Wednesday) prescribes that individuals 14- 59 years of age are asked to reduce food intake to two small meals not equaling the largest meal, to not eat anything between meals and to abstain from eating meat. All those 18 years of age and older are called to abstinence except in the case of a serious medical condition.

Have you taken the next step and denied yourself any favorite foods or indulgences? All of these instances of self-denial can help to prepare us for the great liturgical celebration of Easter as through them we may "...acquire mastery over our instincts and freedom of the heart."

Cf. CIC, cann. 1249-125:CCEO, cann. 882.

While the rules of fasting and abstinence are meant to help us grow in discipline, they are also an invitation to personal conversion. As we experience hunger or desire for food, let us be reminded of our dependence on God, who provides all things. As we prepare to enter Holy Week, the most solemn and sacred time of the Christian year, we are invited to deepen our faith through prayer, reflection, and penance.

Have you added anything to your usual almsgiving? Have you answered the call and contributed to Cross Catholic Outreach or one of our other Lenten Giving Tree suggestions? Is there a specific charity that has personal significance to you or a loved one? If you are strapped for cash, give something... anything. Have you ever heard that you can't out-give God?

In the account of the "widow's mite," (Mark 12:41-44) Jesus pointed out that her offering was more significant than those of the wealthy who gave from their abundance. Her offering was a reflection of her complete trust in God, as she gave all she had to live on. What matters to God is not the amount, but the heart behind the giving.

> Give and gifts will be given to you; a good measure, packed together, shaken down, and overflowing, will be poured into your lap. For the measure with which you measure will in return be measured out to you.

Divine Mercy

Evangelization Committee

Know your ABC's

Let's look at the ABCs of mercy in particular, to explore how the Gospels tell us they are an integral part of our spiritual life.

A Ask for God's Mercy. We know we must do this in order to have eternal life with God forever in Heaven. The Bible tells us that unless we repent and ask for forgiveness, we cannot enter the Kingdom of God (see Lk 13:3, 5, Mt 18:3-4).

B Be Merciful to Others. We know we must also do this in order to have eternal life. Examples such as Mt 25:31-46 and other passages gives us a stern warning from Jesus Himself about the necessity of being merciful. Our salvation depends on it.

C Completely Trust in God's Mercy. We cannot get to Heaven without grace.. The vessel to receive this grace is through trust.

The Message of Divine Mercy is that God loves, all of us, no matter how great our sins. He wants us to recognize that His mercy is greater than our sins so that we will call upon Him with trust, receive His mercy, and let it flow through us to others. God wants us to turn to Him with trust and repentance while we are still living in the time of mercy before he comes as the Just Judge.

But Jesus calls us to something radically different. He doesn't just tell the crowd to put down their stones; He responds to the woman with mercy. He doesn't ignore her sin, but He also doesn't shame or condemn her. He simply says, "Go, and from now on do not sin anymore."

That's the other part of this equation. It's not just about stopping the hurtful words; it's about replacing them with words that heal, forgive, and show mercy—words that build up instead of tear down.

Right now, when there's so much division, anger, and blame in our world, this message couldn't be timelier. Before we speak (or comment, criticize, or post on social media), we need to ask ourselves, "Am I throwing stones with my words?" And if we've hurt someone, "Am I willing to offer words that heal?"

This week, let's pay attention to the words we use—both in person and online. Let's drop the stones we're tempted to throw, instead choosing words of compassion, patience, and mercy.

Power in Prayer

Sue Rebits - Evangelization Committee

This Week's Intention: Asking for God's Mercy

Suggested Prayer: Eternal God, in whom mercy is endless, and the treasury of compassion inexhaustible, look kindly upon us, and increase your mercy in us, that in difficult moments, we might not despair, nor become despondent, but with great confidence submit ourselves to Your holy will, which is Love and Mercy itself. Amen. (Diary, 950)

Suggested Activity: Be merciful to others.

Did You Know?

God's Three Great Acts of Mercy

First great act of mercy: Creation. I came from God, you came from God, we all came from God. Sadly, it took man the high point of God's creation, no time at all to get into trouble. Adam and Eve's sin was a result of man taking their eyes off his Creator and focusing inward, not trusting in God, but rather only in himself. Mankind was now in need of a Savior to rescue himself from this fallen condition.

The first sin brought about the need for God's second great act of mercy: Redemption. In this act of mercy, God had to intervene to fix the mess man had made. A great chasm now existed between God and man that needed to be repaired. Man created the divide but was beyond his capacity to fix it. God's second great act of mercy was to send His Son, Jesus, both God and man to redeem us.

The third act of mercy: Sanctification. The Holy Spirit came to sanctify us and make us holy so we could return to God the Father without stain or blemish. We become adopted sons and daughters at our Baptism. When we trust in Jesus and receive the Sacraments, especially Reconciliation and Holy Communion, we receive God's mercy in the fullest and most guaranteed way.

Lenten Giving Tree - 2025

Jenny L. Racette - LGT Chairperson

This week's article will focus on Cross Catholic Outreach's:

Blessed and Empowered: Providing Opportunity and Hope for Impoverished Families - Dominican Republic*

Your Gift Will Bring Hope to Suffering Families

Poverty is so pervasive in the rural villages of the Dominican Republic that it becomes almost impossible for struggling families to escape its grasp and build a brighter future for their children. Greater opportunities for economic advancement are needed because without them, parents can't earn a sustainable income, improve their children's education or build safe homes. Some may wonder why these hardships are so pervasive given that the country has one of the fastest-growing economies in Latin America. The tragic truth is that the fruits of tourism, construction and international trade simply don't extend to the remote areas where most poor families live. Those families can only survive by becoming subsistence farmers, and their incomes are rarely enough to cover even basic necessities, let alone community improvements. This extreme level of poverty is particularly common in communities located near the Haitian border. Families in those areas live in makeshift housing, and their communities lack even a basic infrastructure. When a season doesn't provide sufficient rain, their crops wither in the fields, and their lack of education and job skills gives them few ways to earn a wage by other means. Facing these extreme challenges, poor families in the Dominican Republic desperately need the kind of spiritual and material transformation only our loving Lord and the Church can provide. The good news is that our in-country ministry partners are prepared to meet their needs with outreaches that empower families and restore lost hope.

Respectfully in God's Love,
Jenny L. Racette
